Biography

Born in Reggio Calabria, a city on the tip of the Italian boot, land of Ulysses, the Odyssey and many Greek myths, which particularly influence him. After the academy of fine arts, he devoted himself to graphics and digital illustration without ever abandoning painting and always trying to discover new communication techniques.

He has lived and exhibited in Rome, Berlin, London, Bologna and finally in Milan, where today he continues his artistic research.

His main objective is to revisit the masterpieces of world art to convey his personal messages, inserting these pop icons in modern contexts and trying to be ironic about the contrasts of current events, hoping to make both think and smile.
